EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS. (From the "Straits Times," July 27, 1868.

Some time ago we had occasion to remark upon the progress that Literature as rupresented by the Press had made and was making in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the receipt of a Hongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes and Queries on (hina and Japan, published monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known namesake or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and useful information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in China, that such a publication as this should be established and conducted with apparently successful vigour.

The publication is altogether a very interesting one, and wishing it every success, we commend it to the attention and support of our readers.

(From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868.) We acknowledge with thanks the receipt the numbers for the current-year of Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Uhinese monthly, edited by Mr N. B. This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports of China and Japan "] is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains an account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with DEBTS, contracted by her Crew during Peking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macao. It lias been carefully compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds, ap12 considerably enhance its value. * * *

HONGKONG, MONDAY, APRIL 5, 1869. TELEGRAPHIC COMMUNICA-TION WITH HONGKONG.

WITH reference to our article of the 1st instant upon the progress made in telegraphic schemes which relate to enterprise in Eastern Asia, we are in possession of some further particulars of that for connecting Hongkong and Rangoon. We refer to a concession said to have been made by the King of Siam to Messrs Read and Paterson of Singapore, under which they proposed to carry a line from Moulmain or Rangoon to Bangkok and thence either by land or submarine cable to Singapore. Now the concession granted by the King of Siam to Messrs Heard, Kresser, Pollard, and Parker, as we are informed is for 90 years' exclusive right for telegraphic communication between the existing British Indian and British Burmese systems and Cambodia, Cochin China and China, excepting the privileges granted to Messrs Read and Paterson. The only question which can therefore possibly arise is regarding the comparatively short piece of line from Moulmain to Bangkok. The concessions given to either party similarly except interference with the privileges accorded to its rival, so that the question as regards this, the only portion of the line in which one can in any way interfere with the other, resolves itself into the simple fact that, unless they so far coalesce, a separate line must be carried by each across Siam from Moulmain. More than that, a glance at the map will show that the line we are speaking of would probably be led rather to the Northward of Bangkok. Messrs Heard, Kresser, Pollard and Parker have it is said obtained from the King of Cambodia, an exclusive right to telegraphie communication across his dominions -and from the Government of French Cochin China, a concession for 40 years across that territory, giving power to lay lines to Hongkong, China, Manila, etc., with exclusive right to beach or land, for For a packet of Books or Patterns, 8 cents | that period, submarine cables on the shores of Cochin China. The proposed line to Hongkong would probably be carried from Saigon to Cape Padaran. Hence it would, by land or sea, reach Hue, a town on the coast to the South-westward of Hainan. Thence it would be carried round or across that island according to circumstances, but we incline to think that a submarine cable from Hue, of even Cape Padaran direct to Hongkonn would be far more safe and practical:

Thus, the Singapore papers, if our information is correct, are in their assumption that Messrs Read and Paterson's rights would be any way interfered with by the Hongkong project. In Cochin China and Cambodia the rights of Messrs Heard, Pollard and Parker. said to be exclusive; while even in Siam there is no need that lines so differing in their destinations and routes should interfere with each other. In the general interests of foreign trade we should rather expect our Straits contemporaries to rejoice, as we do, that more than one company is in the field. "Union is strength," and little would be gained by any dog-in-the-manger attempt to keep out rivals from a small nortion of the country to be traversed when, as in this case, there is no real basis for such a course of action. We are sincerely glad to find that the project is becoming bona fide in its character.

THE annual report of the Colonial Surgeon appears in Saturday's Gazette and gives a most satisfactory account of the improvement in the health of the Colony for the past ten years. We reserve detailed comment for another issue.

THE Gazette also notifies the appointment of Mr James Russell and Mr Miles Prendecast Jukes as Justices of the Peace, the former to act provisionally as Police Magistrate, during Mr Goodlake's absence on

WITH reference to Government Notification No. 116 of 20th October 1868, the Gazette of Saturday further notifies that a communication has been received from Vice-Admiral Keppel, stating that the national distinguishing flag of Chinese War vessels as recognised by H. M. Naval Authorities. would, pending a final arrangement, be square, and not a three cornered flag, as described in the Admiral's letter printed in the Government notification above quot ed. This alteration has been provisionally approved by H. M. Government,

On Saturday night, between eleven and twelve, a fire broke out at Yau-ma-tee, the fishing-village at the Western boundary of British Kowloong; and the blaze threw a brilliant illumination over half the harbor. We understand that Captain Deane and Mr Glennie, and other Police Officers, were speedily on the spot to render, what assistance they could. The want of a steam floating fire-engine was felt; and as the wind was blowing the smoke and sparks exactly in the direction of the Gunpowder Hulk, some anxiety was caused, or rather the unpleasant possibility of a repetition of the grand blow-up of 1867 was suggested Stonecutter's Island was also bearing in that direction, and there is said to be more powder there than would be convenient, if the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constantant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself as a constant based of the fellows represented himself about two or three o'clock,

THE following Regulations for Street-Chairs and Chair-Coolies have been published:-There are two classes of street chairs, ordinary and special. All streetchairs may carry persons who have engaged them up to any hour, but ordinary chairs may not ply for hire after first gunfire, (8 p.m.), nor special chairs after midnight As special chairs are secured for a higher sum ($50) than ordinary chairs ($25), it for the interest of the public to engage only the former after gunfire. Each street chair carries a number, and its two cool a badge each, bearing the same number as the chair. The numbers and coo badges of special chairs are White. The numbers and coolies' badges of ordinary chairs are Blue. (201 to 700 When ground of complaint arises against any street chair-coolies, the person aggrieved may either hand the offender over to the Police, or send a memorandum of the complaint and the chair's number to the Registrar General. When street chair coolies are suspected of having retained missing property, the number of their chair should be sent to the Registrar General at once without any loss of time. Each street-chair carries on the back of its number board a Tariff of Fares condensed from the following :--

The charge brought against Low Asowthe Kowloong stonecutter arrested on Saturday by Mr Jarman and Apo-was proceeded with this afternoon before Mr May. Two women, said to be grass-cutters on the Pokfolum Gap, were examined, and detailed the murder of Mr Holworthy as seen by them on the 24th January, by the prisoner and others. We have not space to give the evidence in full: but may remark that prisoner made several charges of unfair interference by Apo with the women while identifying the prisoner in the Gaol this morning: he said that Apo gave the woman "the wink" in order to ensure his to mark the neighbourhood of dangers. identification. Adolphe Lustig was a deck passenger on board the West Indian and being sea sick outside this Harbor before the steamer arrived, he asked defendant to look after his boxes. This defendant did, but abstracted a pair of trowsers, in the pockets of which were two silver watches, an eye-glass, two sovereigns, and two gold chains. A somewhat remarkable case was heard ov Mr Russell, in which Sergeant M'Cabe, 5th Regt, was defendant. The charge was for assaulting chair-coolies and damaging their chair; and though a countercharge was laid by defendant, of an attemp! to stub made by the coolies, the point upon which the case turned was the soberness or otherwise of the defendant. A comrade (Corporal Greenside) swore that defendant was not drunk, nor had any appearance of drinking .- P. C. Mallen (who has been nineteen years a soldier and "knows when a man is drunk") positively swore that defendant was drunk: so drunk that he neither knew what he was saying, nor could he stand without assistance. Inspector Grimes also swore that defendant was so drunk as to be unfit for duty, and that his tunic showed no marks of any attempt to stab.—Captain Morris (75th) gave defendant a good character; but Mr Russell inflicted a punishment of a $2 fine, and $1 amends to the COURT OF ADMIRALTY.-FEB. 17 THE PROCEEDS OF THE CARGO EX.

ELLEN BODGER This was a cause of salvage instituted on behalf of the owners, master, and crew the ship Albuera against the proceeds of the sale of a portion of the cargo, tackle, stores, of the late ship Ellen Rodger, and against the owners of that ship and her cargo intervening. The money, amounting to

Two preliminary points of some importance arose. The salvors had filed their petition, setting out the facts which gave rise to their | and go home. claim, to which the owners of the Ellen Rodger did not put in any answer, although they had appeared to the suit; the salvors, the copper trade and the opening of Niis. then, by leave of the Court, concluded the pleadings. Afterwards the owners of the cargo salved also appeared. Under these allegations of the petition were admitted, and that it was unnecessary to call evidence on the part of the salvors, and cases were cited in support of this proposition. The Court, however, held that as in all he cases cited the defendants had pleaded and had either in their pleadings assumed the truth of the plaintiff's statements or denied some of them, from which it might be inferred that they admitted the rest, this case was distinguishable, and that the salvors must prove their case.

A witness was then called on their behalf and examined, but upon counsel for the ship and cargo proposing to cross-examine him, the objection was taken that as the owners of the Ellen Rodger and her cargo had not pleaded they could not take any part by counsel in the hearing of the suit. THE Court held the objection was good, and that a party who has not pleaded cannot be allowed to cross-examine witnesses or to be heard upon the merits. There being, however, particular circumstances in this case, an arrangement was come to between the parties in order to save the expense of an adjournment, which was offered by the Court, and counsel for the ship and cargo addressed the Court by consent of the other side. The facts of the case were simple. The Albuera, a ship of 774 tons, bound from London for Shanghaiwith a valuable cargo, on the 2nd of Octo, 1866, while sailing through Gaspar straits, sighted the Ellen Rodger, a homeward bound tea ship, ashore on the Belvilere shoal and abandoned. Finding it impossible to save the Ellen Rodger herself. the master and the crew of the Albura prought off from her 1,477 chests of tea, and a lot of sails and stores. The salvage services occupied five days, and were attended with considerable labour, as the Albuera dared not approach within a mile and a half or two miles of the wreck, her boats had to carry everything saved from one ship to the other under a tropical sun. The tea and stores taken to Shanghai and there sold, the proceeds remitted to England. The Court awarded £1,200 salvage, which it allotted £400 to the owners of the

A SCENE AT WILLENHALL RAILWAY STATION. -A correspondent sends up the following narrative of a scene which he and others witnessed and took part in, at the railway station at Willenhall. A thick chain; three little boys on either side, and a bigger boy at the end all handouffed. Several poor women crying. Lots of children, and three policemen. One of the children was so little, that a policeman had to Albuera, £200 to her master, and £600 to wrap a handkerchief round his wrist to make the handcuffs fit. NOTIFICATION

THE TEA TRADE AT CANTON. HE following Notification has been is. sned by Her Britannic Majesty's Con. sul at Canton:—

Notification

BRITISH CONSULATE, CANTON, February 26, 1869.

Representations having been made to the aindersigned with reference to the difficulties experienced in obtaining the due fulfilment of contracts through the failure of the Teamen and Brokers to supply Teas in bulk according to the muster upon which they were purchased, he brought the matter, in conjunction with the Consul for the United States, before the Chinese authorities, with a view to devising some mode by which the evil complained of might be rectified. It is obvious that the remedy lay to a great extent in the hands of the purply Steamers and Sailing Vessels with quick Teas if they were inferior to the samples; chasers themselves, by the refusal of the despatch at Current Rates, or deliver the but difficulties interpose in following this course, such as Tonnage having been engaged, advices having gone forward, and others unnecessary to mention. Moreover, as the rejection of a chop was little likely to cause loss or damage to the Teaman owing to market fluctuations, no unwillingness was felt on his part to such a result: in fact, it was an encouragement to fraudulent practices. The undersigned was therefore of opinion that compelling the fulfilment of contracts or enforcing what is termed an "equitable cut" for inferior quality, were necessary measures, if trade was to be conducted on anything like a sound basis; he therefore directed his attention to devising a mode of arbitration or proceeding by means of which the expenses and delay of a Chinese court of law might be avoided. It is not worth while to detail the particulars of the proposition he made, as, after long negociations, it was rejected by the Tea guild, who met it by a counter. proposition that if Tea when delivered was not equal to muster, it should be rejected. Seeing that no amicable arrangement could be arrived at, the undersigned, in conjunction with the Consul for the United States, requested the Chinese authorities to notify to the Teamen, brokers, and others, that the utmost rigour of the law would be enforced in all cases of fraudulent practices, and he hopes that the Proclamation which has been issued accordingly, a copy of translation of which is annexed, will have the effect intended, by shewing the parties

Nanhai District, and Yang, Magistrate of the P'wangyu District :-We have received instructions from his Honor the Financial Commissioner, embodying orders from his Excellency the Viceroy in tenor as follow:-"The Viceroy received a communication on the 20th August last from the British Consul, Mr Robertson, to the effect that he has been addressed by the British merchants at Can'on with reference to the great loss and detriment to their trade caused by The practice appears to be that the Tea-All orders for Admission to Hospital must | brokers take round samples of Teas, and the merchants after inspecting and tasting their qualities and arranging for the price to be paid for the chop, with the weight in and when the Teas agreed for arrive in Canton, they are found on inspection to be not only far inferior in quality to the samplo supplied, but largely mixed with what are called 'lie-tens,' or leaves of plants of all kinds prepared to imitate the genuina tea. This has now become the regular practice, and it is necessary that some measures should be taken to put an end to the frauds which are thus perpetrated. He therefore urges that measures be devised with this end in view, etc., etc. The U.S. Consul, Mr King, has also made a similar representation. On receipt of the foregoing

the Viceroy ordains that a notification be issued to the Tea dealers with injunctions to be laid upon them for their obedience." The Magistrates being in receipt of the above instructions, have to issue a notification in pursuance of their tenor; and we do therefore accordingly proclaim for the instruction of all members of the Tea Trade, that it is an obvious duty to make honesty and good faith the guiding principles of commerce with foreign merchants, and that to cherish fraudulent designs can in no wise be permitted. They should, moreover, bear in mind that the bulk of the Tea export has been confined of late years to the ports of Fukien, whilst the local trade in Canton teas itself has at the same time languished in an unusual degree. If fraudulent practices in the way of false packing be further persisted in, not only will those guilty of such acts be liable to prosecution and thus incur the danger of arrest and of actions for compensation, but the trade itself will continue to fall off daily, and the possibility of gain to the trader will be still more remote. It is not difficult to indulging in fraudulent practices, on complaint being lodged by foreign merchants, they shall not only be required to make compensation, but shall further be visited with severe punishment, under the statute for assimilating the offence of obtaining money under false pretences with the crims. of robbery. Be ye careful, therefore, not to disobey, and thus to involve yourselves in trouble. Let all tremblingly obey. A
